Acknowledgements

A special thanks to the Paul Sacher Foundation and the Institut de Recherche et Coordination Acoustique/Musique for accommodating my research stays in 2017-2018 and providing access to archival resources that have been vital to this research. Without their kind support, this podcast would not have been possible. Additionally, I want to thank my guests—Carmine Emanuele Cella, Jonathan Sterne, and Mehak Sawhney—for their always thoughtful responses to the interview questions. The cross-disciplinary insights they generated were crucial to the making of this episode and I am grateful to them for taking the time to sit down and discuss their work with me.
